Owner Measurement Certification

In order to register a boat into your name/ family name and address please follow the Measurement Certification link below.

You will be asked to declare that you are the current registered keeper of the boat in order to obtain a measurement certificate in your name. This is not to say that the measurement certificate is a proof of legal ownership of any boat.

You can update other details such as Boat Name and Home Sailing Club, but not any measurement details. If measurement information has changed for your boat, please contact technical@rya.org.uk.

This service is currently only available for the RYA National Classes only and no other classes. If your boat is not a National Class, then please contact technical@rya.org.uk.

If your boat has not had a measurement certificate issued before, please click here for further information on first certification.

When filling out the Measurement Certificate form, please do not press the back button in your browser as this will cause an error.
